HONOLULU

And the Hawaiian Islands are interestingly Described

BY RETURNED SOLDIER

James Graham, son of George W. Graham, of 403 South McKinley avenue, has just returned from the Philippines where for the past three years he has been serving in Company E, Tenth regiment, U. S. A.

Mr. Graham, who is a young man of more than ordinary brilliancy, speaks very favorably and entertainingly of his observations and experiences in the islands and in an interview with a News representative gave a graphic description of these experiences as well as of the nature and customs of the inhabitants of the islands.

For the past two years Mr. Graham was stationed at Camp McKinley, Honolulu, from where he was honorably discharged on general order No. 90, on June 27 last. He took passage on the transport Logan on July 9 and arrived in San Francisco on July 17. Mr. Graham was promoted to the rank of private and as such was brought into close touch with not only the different phases of military life in the islands, but also with all classes of the natives or Kanakas which on the island of Oahu, the largest of the group, number about 18,000. On this same island are also about 20,000 Chinese and 40,000 Japanese, while many ex-soldiers of Russia are living there.

JAP SOLDIERS. Mr. Graham says that two regiments of Japanese soldiers were discovered secreted in the islands but thinks the United States has nothing to fear should the present relations of the two countries lead to a conflict which he deems altogether improbable, owing to the fact that Japan realizes that in the event she should engage in war with the United States Russia would step in and again tuck Manchuria under its wing. Then, too, the indebtedness of Japan to the United States and her impoverished condition will prevent any serious aggressiveness on her part for years to come.

TALKS WITH EX-QUEEN. Mr. Graham enjoys the unique if not envious distinction of having had a personal interview with the aged and deposed Queen Liliuokalani.

Street car service in the islands is fully up to that in our own country and employees of the street car companies receive an average of $3 per day. Bananas, one of the principal products of the islands, are bought readily at 25 cents per bunch. The islands, Mr. Graham says, are attracting large numbers of tourists from the states, owing to their excellent temperature and healthful climate.

Mr. Graham reports but two deaths of comrades during the two years when he was stationed there. After several weeks of recreation among his friends and relatives Mr. Graham proposes to take up regular work and make his future home in Canton.

POWDER EXPLOSION

In Dalton Store Injures Two Men, One Seriously.

The town of Dalton in Wayne county, was badly shaken at noon Thursday by the explosion of two cans of powder in McDowell's hardware store. William O. Reffler, who was in the store at the time had all his clothing burned off and has small chances of recovery. He was taken to Mr. Airy hospital at Massillon. His wife at home is prostrated. W. H. Lehman, who was in the store within 10 feet of the powder, escaped uninjured. Amos Moser, who was just leaving the place, was badly cut with flying glass. Part of the contents of store was thrown across the street.

Mr. McDowell, the proprietor of the store, is at Crocker Creek, Tenn., looking after some mining prospects, in which he is interested. No one can give any cause for the explosion. The prompt action of the fire department prevented the spread of flames, and little damage resulted from fire.

Balch Family Reunion.

North Beverly, Mass., Aug. 1.—The descendants of John Balch, who emigrated to America in 1623, held a family reunion here today at the old Balch homestead. The Balch house, which is still practically in its original condition, was built in 1635 and is still occupied by one of the descendants of John Balch. There are supposed to be about 5,000 members of the Balch family now living in the United States.
